Allstate Mortgage, alcovamortgage.com
6110 Executive Blvd, Rockville, MD 20852
We are a Mortgage Lender and Mortgage Advisor. We assist clients in procuring loans to purchase or refinance real property, taking into consideration their larger financial strategies, portfolios, and taxation consequences. Students will shadow myself or other experienced mortgage originators while we work with clients or on behalf of clients. In client interaction, presentation, style, communication, and sales skills are paramount. There is no better way to learn and understand this than to witness it hands-on. Further, as we work through a client's file in the office, mortgage lending and transactional real estate processes can be learned, as well as general financial strategies. Lastly, day-to-day intra-office management principles can be experienced. Students may have a specific interest in mortgage banking, finance, lending, or real estate, but that would not be required. Most of the skills useful in this industry translate well to many other fields.
- Interested in all majors; juniors and seniors preferred
- Site is metro accessible

American Institutes for Research (AIR), air.org
1025 Thomas Jefferson St NW, Washington, DC 20007
AIR is one of the world's largest behavioral and social science research and evaluation organizations. Our overriding goal is to use the best science available to bring the most effective ideas and approaches to enhancing everyday life. For us, making the world a better place is not wishful thinking. It is the goal that drives us. Founded in 1946 as a not-for-profit organization, we conduct our work with strict independence, objectivity and non-partisanship. The intellectual diversity of our 1,800 employees enables us to bring together experts from many fields in the search for innovative answers to challenges that span the human life course. AIR’s mission is to conduct and apply the best behavioral and social science research and evaluation towards improving peoples’ lives, with a special emphasis on the disadvantaged. In the Education Program at AIR, we connect rigorous research, policy, and practice to support and improve education. The students will have the opportunity to observe a project director and his research team at AIR doing work for the U.S. Department of Education as part of a large federal contract that supports activities pertaining to international surveys and assessments. The project team assists with activities focused on four large-scale international surveys/assessments: the Program for International Student Assessment (PISA), the Progress in International Reading Literacy Study (PIRLS), the Trends in International Mathematics and Science Study (TIMSS), and the Teaching and Learning International Survey (TALIS) (see http://nces.ed.gov/surveys/international/). Work activities primarily include researching topics pertaining to comparative and international education, reading, mathematics, and science; assisting with data analysis; conducting data quality checks; preparing and reviewing data tables, figures, and data documentation; assisting with writing and the review of research papers and statistical reports; revising manuscripts in response to editorial and technical comments; preparing products for release based on detailed publication standards; assisting with website updates; and developing presentations for professional audiences.
- Interested in all majors; juniors, seniors preferred
- Site is metro accessible
The American Kidney Fund is dedicated to ensuring that every kidney patient has access to health care, and that every person at risk for kidney disease is empowered to prevent it. As the nation's largest not-for-profit organization serving people with, and at risk for, kidney disease, we have helped more than 1 million low-income dialysis patients to access lifesaving medical care since our founding in 1971. Last year, we provided financial assistance to 20 percent of the nation's dialysis patients. Our grants in 2014 enabled more than 84,000 people in all 50 states to maintain their health insurance coverage and to afford other critical expenses related to obtaining life-sustaining dialysis treatment. In this shadowing experience, students would potentially see strategy meetings with other C-wing executives, discussions with external strategic partners, learn about public and professional health education activities, learn about health screening events and also see a large public-facing call center in action.

- Interested in all majors; juniors, seniors preferred

BASIS DC, basisdc.org Industry: Education
410 8th St NW, Washington, DC 20004
BASIS DC is a public charter school, serving grades 5-12. We are located in the Penn Quarter neighborhood, accessible from every metro line. Our student body is the most diverse in the city, as we have students enrolled from every zip code in DC. Our rigorous curriculum mirrors a traditional European school, and we hold both students and teachers accountable to meet the high expectations we set. I’m amazed every day at the things our 600 students are achieving! In my role as a School Director, I interface with students, parents, staff, and teachers. A typical day would include meeting with the Head of School and other admin, observing in classrooms, conferencing with teachers, meeting with students to discuss their grades, behaviors, etc, overseeing school programs, meeting with parents, and performing various other administrative tasks.

BDO (2 hosts in Audit/Assurance), bdo.com
Industry: Accounting

8405 Greensboro Dr., Suite 700, McLean, VA 22102
There are many world-class accounting firms. Far fewer that offer a culture so rich in professional opportunity, personal fulfillment, and long-term growth. At BDO, we understand that exceptional service to our clients begins – and ends – with exceptional regard for our people. Because at its core, our business is not about numbers or spreadsheets, dollars or pence, but about people working with, for, and in service of others. In short, because relationships matter. In this shadowing experience, the student will shadow a day in the life of an assurance director, attend client meetings, etc.

Bowie State University (TRIO), scholarstudio.com
Industry: Education

14000 Jericho Park Rd, Bowie, MD 20715
Bowie State University is the oldest historically Black university (HBCU) in Maryland. Located on over 300 acres in Prince George’s County, we serve nearly 5600 undergraduate and graduate students from the Washington-Baltimore metro areas. We offer 60 degree and certificate programs. I lead two student-focused programs. TRIO/SSS is federally-funded and provides academic support to first-generation, low-income and disabled students through tutoring, coaching, advising, cultural events and workshops. A portion of my time is dedicated to overseeing the execution of our programs, budget and staff. I also co-founded and lead first-year interdisciplinary, problem-based learning communities. In addition to managing the implementation logistics, I also lead faculty planning and development, making staffing decisions and teach a freshman orientation course.

CHI Centers Inc., chicenters.org
10501 New Hampshire Ave, Silver Spring, MD 20903
Industry: Education/Non-Profit

CHI Centers was founded in 1948 by a committed group of parents of children with cerebral palsy. We value advocacy, honoring an individual's dignity, and collaborating with community partners to deliver outstanding experiences for adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities throughout Maryland's Montgomery, Prince George's, and Howard Counties. Each of CHI Centers' Employment and Day Services is committed to the full integration of participants into all aspects of the community. Our program staff provide skill-building and authentic experiences to facilitate that integration. CHI Centers' Residential Services provide housing and assistance to people who require supervision and training in order to enhance their ability to thrive successfully in the community. In addition to shadowing and observing, we ask students interested in interning with us to bring along a lesson or activity to share with the individuals we support. This activity could be a yoga class, a sing-along, an arts-and-crafts activity, or a conversation about current events (to name a few). A key to remember about this population, though, is they are ADULTS, so anything shared should be age appropriate and respectful. This will not be a passive, watch and learn kind of experience.

Industry: Federal Government
The Consumer Product Safety Commission is an independent regulatory federal agency charged with protecting the public from unreasonable risks of serious injury or death from more than 15,000 types of consumer products under our jurisdiction. The Directorate for Laboratory Sciences conducts engineering analyses and testing of consumer products, supporting the development of voluntary and mandatory standards, and supporting the Agency’s compliance activities through product safety assessments. A wide variety of products are tested and evaluated to determine the causes of failure and the hazards presented. Product safety tests involve mechanical, electrical, and combustion engineering, as well as thermal and chemical analyses. Test protocols are developed, test fixtures and setups are designed and fabricated, and tests are conducted following the requirements and guidance of voluntary and mandatory standards and/or using sound engineering and scientific judgment. The Directorate for Engineering Sciences develops technical policy for and implementing the Commission’s engineering programs. The Directorate develops and evaluates product safety standards, product safety tests and test methods, performance criteria, design specifications, and quality control standards for consumer products, based on engineering and scientific methods. It conducts engineering analysis and testing of the safety of consumer products, and evaluates and participates in the development of mandatory and voluntary standards for consumer products including engineering and human factors analyses in support of standards development and product compliance testing. The Directorate performs or monitors research for consumer products in a broad array of engineering disciplines including chemical, electrical, fire protection, human factors, and mechanical engineering.

Cashell Elementary School (17101 Cashell Rd, Rockville, MD 20853): I work as a speech-language pathologist in an elementary school setting. I work with students in preschool through fifth grade with a wide range of needs. The preschool students have intensive needs, as many are just developing language and working on basic communication skills. I have students in general education K-5 who have needs in the areas of articulation, answering questions, describing, social language/pragmatics, and nonliteral language. Finally, I also see students in 2 special needs K-5 classes who have disabilities such as autism, Down Syndrome, intellectual disability, or other physical impairments. A typical day consists of multiple group or individual sessions and consultations with other staff members/related service providers. The student who comes to shadow would be able to sit in during individual and group sessions, either in a speech room or in special education classrooms. If comfortable, they would be able to assist in setting up materials, collecting data, and helping students complete tasks. If the student would prefer to solely observe, that’s fine too!

910 S. Chapel St Suite 102, Newark, DE 19703
MABH is a comprehensive outpatient behavioral health practice made up of over 30 licensed psychiatrists, psychologists, masters level therapists, and APRN’s. We see patients ages 3 on up for a wide variety issues and concerns. Our clinical staff provides appointments for psychiatric medicine management, individual and group therapy, neuropsychological and psychological assessment. Depending on if a student is focused on the clinical or business aspects of what we do will of course determine what they might see. From the clinical side many of our clinicians have in the past provided opportunities to shadow them for part or all of their day. So the experience could include working with our intake staff as the first point of patient engagement, sitting in on individual or group therapy, working with our assessment team to perform testing, visiting an inpatient facility where we provide onsite assessment services, or possibly working with one of our prescribers for part of their day. Most of these opportunities require advance planning to get permission from the clinician, the patient, and or the facility. If the interest is our practice operations then the day could include a wide variety of topics. Depending on the day it could include staff meetings with the front office and/or clinical staff, marketing outreach, budget, financial and strategic growth focused meetings and duties, etc. Basically anything that goes on in a mid-sized business on a day to day basis is available.

Office of Montgomery County Executive, montgomerycountymd.gov/countystat
Industry: Government

255 Rockville Pike, Suite L-10, Rockville, MD 20878
CountyStat is the performance management and data analytics team within our office. Since its establishment in 2007, CountyStat has used data to monitor and improve the performance of County services, solve problems, and deliver results for our residents, businesses, and communities. We strive to help County departments and executives effectively use their data to make smarter decisions and achieve better outcomes -- and champion accountability and transparency for our residents and employees. Learn how we translate data into policy insights, including by creating infographics and maps that government managers can use to make smarter decisions. See how we use "open data" and online performance dashboards to promote government transparency and accountability. Examples of our "data science for social good" projects include developing performance dashboards to promote bottom-up action on greening the County's environmental footprint; tracking "hotspots" of car accidents involving pedestrians to make our streets safer; and mapping the County's large and diverse immigrant community to improve government outreach to traditionally underserved residents. We particularly welcome students with a background in engineering, information technology, or statistics with a passion for public policy -- or, vice versa, government and social science majors with a knack for technology and data.

The Goddard School is a year round private preschool serving children 6 weeks to 6 years of age. The Gaithersburg location is known for its strong curriculum to include Guided Reading, Reader's Theater, a STEM program and math/literacy assessments. We often hire college students for part time and paid summer internships. As those interns graduate, we enjoy extending permanent, full time job opportunities. We hire both those with Education degrees, as well as those who have studied related fields such as Family Studies, Psychology or Sociology. While we would be happy to answer questions about career growth and administrative duties, we would primarily be looking for interns to shadow our classroom teachers. While able to ask questions of me regarding growth into administrative positions, primarily interns will spend time in the classrooms observing and talking to teachers regarding their daily responsibilities and routines. They will observe ways to transition students from one activity to another, different classroom management techniques, lesson plan implementation and small group differentiation. They will also see various ways of interacting and communicating with parents. Depending on the age group the intern is observing, they will also observe how basic needs and self-help skills are fostered from hand-washing to sanitizing tables, potty training incentives, feeding themselves, etc.

UMD College of Computer, Mathematical & Natural Sciences, cmns.umd.edu Industry: Higher Education
1318A Symons Hall, College Park, MD 20742
I work with prospective students and undergraduates in the Dean's Office of the College of Computer, Mathematical & Natural Sciences at University of Maryland. I act as the liaison to the Office Of Undergraduate Admissions for students interested in our majors, and also advise undergraduates in biological sciences, as well as those interested in the health professions. I do everything from reviewing applications for admission and running large-scale CMNS admissions events on campus to selecting and working with the CMNS Recruitment Ambassadors and helping students find their strengths and prepare for their lives after college. Depending on the time in the admissions cycle, students may be part of planning open house events, following up with students, or witness individual recruitment in action (through visits or personalized notes). During heavier advising times, students may join me for a session of teaching my UNIV100 freshman seminar course, prepare lessons for that class, or sit in on academic advising appointments.

Under Armour, underarmour.com Industry: Retail/Merchandising
1020 Hull St, Baltimore, MD 21230
Under Armour is the chosen brand of this generation of athletes... and the athletes of tomorrow. We're about performance - in training and on game day, in blistering heat and bitter cold. Whatever the conditions, whatever the sport, Under Armour delivers the advantage athletes have come to demand. That demand has created an environment of growth. An environment where building a great team is vital. An environment where doing whatever it takes is the baseline and going above and beyond to protect the Brand is commonplace. The world's hungriest athletes live by a code, a pledge to themselves and everyone else: Protect This House... I Will. Students will get to shadow teammates that are working for the biggest, and baddest apparel brand. They will get to see what it takes to work in this fast paced environment while meeting teammates throughout the day.

University of Maryland Archives, lib.umd.edu/univarchives Industry: Library Sciences
2208 Hornbake Library, University of Maryland
The University Archives serves as the collective memory of the University of Maryland, from the granting of the charter for the Maryland Agricultural College on March 6, 1856, to the present day. Established by the University of Maryland Libraries in 1972, the Archives is the official repository for all of the university's permanent records and actively gathers administrative files, university publications, photographs, audiovisual materials, faculty papers, theses & dissertations, and memorabilia that document all aspects of campus life. The University Archives is a heavily consulted resource for the University of Maryland community and researchers across the United States and around the world, handling nearly 1,500 requests for information annually. Students would have an opportunity to observe the wide variety of tasks and responsibilities involved in running the University of Maryland Archives, including acquiring new materials to preserve, answering requests for information and images, publicizing the holdings of the Archives and UMD history, making collections accessible to researchers, and fundraising. Students may also be able to get a feel for the administrative tasks involved in managing the Archives and participation in administrative activities within the UMD Libraries and across the campus.

University of Maryland Extension, extension.umd.edu

1114 Shawan Rd, Cockeysville, MD 21030

University of Maryland Extension (UME) is a statewide, non-formal education system within the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources and the University of Maryland Eastern Shore. UME educational programs and problem-solving assistance are available to citizens and are based on the research and experience of land grant universities such as the University of Maryland, College Park. We have professionals who work in the areas of agriculture, horticulture, food and nutrition, 4-H youth development, watershed restoration, and more. As a horticulture educator, no week looks the same. Sometimes I am out teaching or doing demonstrations and schools or other community events and some days I am in the office helping to answer clientele's questions about horticulture. This includes identifying plants/insects/diseases and provided non-biased research based recommendations. I also coordinate a group of volunteers called Master Gardeners so I am often times sitting in on meetings with them or helping them get ready for their events.
