Explore the arts at the University of Maryland!

1 The School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation (MAPP) in the Architecture Building houses the KIBEL GALLERY and THE GREAT SPACE, which feature exhibitions reflecting architecture, planning, preservation and real estate development. These locations provide space for students and professionals to exchange ideas about the built environment. arch.umd.edu/mapp/galleries

2 The student-run HERMAN MARIL GALLERY serves as an exhibition space for the Department of Art, where students can display their artworks and host lectures from visiting artists. art.umd.edu/hmgallery

3 The MICHELLE SMITH COLLABORATORY FOR VISUAL CULTURE provides a focal point on campus for applying new technology to the study and visualization of art and architecture in ways not previously possible and for experimenting with new modes of creative production in the digital humanities. 5 THE STAMP GALLERY features contemporary artworks that reflect broad social issues. The gallery serves as a laboratory where emerging, mid-career artists and curators can share ideas. stamp.umd.edu/gallery

6 THE DAVID C. DRISKELL CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF VISUAL ARTS AND CULTURE OF AFRICAN AMERICANS AND THE AFRICAN DIASPORA honors the legacy of artist, art historian and Distinguished University Professor Emeritus David C. Driskell by preserving the rich heritage of African American visual arts and culture. Its Art Collection includes around 1,600 pieces, and the Archives Collection comprises approximately 50,000 cultural objects assembled over more than six decades.
